

MDRU, RNT MEDICAL COLLEGE ORGANIZED HANDS-ON WORKSHOP

A workshop on “Molecular Diagnostics Techniques” was organized at Multi-Disciplinary Research Unit (MDRU), RNT Medical College on February 14, 2020. Dr Lakhan Poswal (Principal & Controller, RNT Medical College) was present as chief guest in inauguration ceremony. Dr R.L. Suman (Superintendent, MBG Hospital), Dr A.K. Verma (Add. Principal – I), Dr Lalit Kumar Raiger (Add. Principal – II) and Dr Ashish Sharma (HOD, Department of Biochemistry, Geetanjali Medical College, Udaipur) were present as distinguish guests. Dr Shuchi Goyal, Nodal officer, MDRU presided the inauguration ceremony. At the outset Dr Goyal welcomed all the participants and guests. In her speech, she narrated about the importance of molecular techniques in diagnosis of human diseases. She also highlighted on research activities going in MDRU. Dr Poswal and Dr Suman stressed on maximum use of molecular techniques in diagnosis of human diseases. Dr Verma and Dr Raiger expressed their appreciations for the research activities going in MDRU. Dr Ashish informed about advantage of molecular diagnostic techniques over conventional diagnostic procedures. Dr Shweta Biyani, Assistant Nodal officer executed over the inauguration ceremony.

Dr S.H. Naqvi, New Delhi was present as guest resource faculty explained all the participants about common molecular biology techniques in easy language. Further, Dr Shelesh Kumar Swami, Research Scientist – II, Mr Nitesh Kumar Chauhan, Research Scientist – I and Dr Govind Krishna Vyas, New Delhi gave hands on training of DNA isolation, PCR and Agarose gel electrophoresis to all participants. Dr S.H. Naqvi briefly explained PCR-RFLP and Real time PCR. A total of 20 candidates from different organizations were actively participated and benefitted from this workshop. Dr Verma and Dr Goyal distributed certificates to all the participants. Dr Goyal also honoured to all the resource faculties. Dr Goyal and Dr Biyani admired Mr Sharvan Kumar Saini, Mr Inderjeet Yadav and Mr Prakash Chandra Sharma for their cooperation in successful organization of this workshop. Feedbacks were also collected from the participants.

